FOUR YEAR OLD BOY BURNED. Ambulance Took Paul Budeit, Whos Clothing Caught Fire, from Durfey

Street to Hospital.

The Backus hospital ambulance was called out hurriedly Monday evening at 7 o'clock to 42 Durfey street to get a four-year-old boy whose clothing had caught fire at his home there and who had been seriously burned as a result. He was Paul Budeit and it was said that he was playing with matches in company with a neighbor's boy and the youngster got shut up in a small room with the burning material around him. At the hospital the doctors worked upon him in the operating room for some time and treated his burns, some of which were rather deep, and included his hands, face and one foot. It was stated at the hosone foot. It was stated at the hos-pital late Monday night that his in-juries were not considered fatal.

Epileptic Patient Discharged. John O'Connell, who was seized with epilepsy on Broadway Sunday night, recovered considerably during the night under the ministrations of physician and police, who supplied medicine and food, both badly needed, respectively and the boy was discharged Monday morning with fair prospects of reaching his friends in Providence. Nevertheless his state of health is something of a hostage to fortune.

ARMY WORMS STILL SPREADING

Franklin Farmers Reported Appearance of the Destructive Invaders on Monday, and Other Calls from this City, Sprague and Montville-Entomologist Lamson Here and Gives Suggestions.

Reports continued to come in Mon-Prof. G. H. Lamson, entomologist at Connecticut Agricultural college, stated on Monday night that he had received numerous calls from many farmers in both Windham and New London counties asking for suggestions in exterminating the worm. Prof. Lamson emphasized the need of taking prompt measures, and he also stated that all farmers should investigate their corn, oat fields, etc., for traces of the striped, dark colored caterpillar, which may be found near the base of the corn stalks and oat stalks and even near the top of the stalks. If a farmer finds that the worms are in his crops, said Prof. Lamson, he should at once plough a deep furrow all around his field and in doing so should be careful that the earth is thrown towards the worms and also that the bottom of the furrow should contain loose earth. The earth thrown towards the worms leaves the outer side of the furrow almost vertical and it is practically impossible for the worms to climb up this side and get into some other field. The loose earth in the bottom of the furrow greatly retards their progress, as they are short legged. lay to County Agent Murray D. Linreceived by telephone from L. H. Smith of Franklin, who said that the worm had invaded his farm and that conof Franklin, who said that the worm is had invaded his farm and that considerable damage had been done to his corn. Previous to that hour reports were received by telephone from James Hyde of Franklin, Allison Ladd of Sprague, George Allen of Montville and several others to the same purport and it is the opinion of the county agent that by the end of the week the entire county will be infected with the pest and present indications are that Windham county will also receive its share. Monday afternoon E. C. Jewett received a telephone call from a Boswell avenue resident, who is said that the worms were eating up her lawn, but she hung up her receiver without giving her name and Mr. Jewett was unable to find out who it was that called him up.

County Agent Lincoln put in a busy forenoon in Preston City and vicinity on Monday and during that time visited a half dozen farms where the farmers as to the best methods to pursue and they immediately started to follow out his directions. At the farm in Hanover conducted by William S. Lee the worms have gotten into both his corn and oat fields and are doing much damage. One Franklin farmer who has extensive peache orchards was much concerned on Monday in regard to the safety of his crop, but his fears were allayed when he was informed that the worm does not as a rule attack fruit trees.

THE BLACKSTONE LIBRARY. Appreciated by Branford More and More Gift of the Late Timothy B.

That Branford appreciates its fine public library gift of the late T. B. Blackstone, whose wife was Miss Isa-bella Norton, of Norwich, is indicated by the following from a New Haven by the following from a New Haven paper:

The novelty of old Branford possessing the wonderful Blackstone Memorial library has never worn off: its beauties are always and ever obvious and the appreciation of the greatest gift yet bestowed upon the town of Branford seems undying. Our shore visitors, when they arrive in Branford proper for the first time, are invariably surprised when they behold this gorgeous structure with its absolutely perfect grounds, in this little town.

The Blackstone Memorial library The Blackstone Memorial library was presented by Timothy B. Blackstone in memory of his father. James Blackstone. James Blackstone was born in Branford in 1793. He was a descendant in the fifth generation from the Rev. William Blackstone, the first settler in Boston. He was a farmer and lived on the farm about two miles east of the center of Branford, on the Pine Orchard road, where his ancestors for four generations had lived before him. He was a promlived before him. He was a prom-inent citizen of the town. He died in Braford, February 4, 1886, at the age

P. J. O'Brien. International vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Electric Railway Employes, came to New London from Springfield, Mass., Monday to confer with the grievance committee of the men on the Shore Line Electric company's line. Lewis and his associates discussed the proposition and counter proposition between the company and the union's committee. proposition between the company and the union's committee.

The men recently proposed a new agreement. A counter proposition was offered by the company to meet this. The company's offer was acceptable as far as it went but it is said did not provide improveed working conditions and wages that the men desire.

INOFFENSIVE CATERPILLARS. Meet an Untimely Death Because Suspected of Being Army Worms. Any worm that happens to look green is suspected of belonging to the army species and any number of cat-erpilars have met death because of army species and any number of caterpiliars have met death because of their resemblance to the pest which is causing trouble in many states. The army worm is a smooth, striped caterpiliar about an inch and a quarter long and a quarter of an inch in diameter. It is rather dark in appearance. While normally it feeds by night and hides by day, not being generally noticed, as soon as it has increased to such a number that its food supply falls short, it starts to travel, and, becoming bolder, feeds both night and day. The moth from which this worm hatches is brown with a white apot on the center of each forewing. It measures about an inch and one-half from wing to wing. While arrenate of lead has been recommended for eradicating the worms, per ple should bear in mind that it is a leadly poisor to man and beast, and when psed, should be kept away from children and animals.

HOW OUT-OF-DOOR LIFE AFFECTS BEAUTI color of the skin, is still very damaging to the refined appearance of the complexion. The open air in itself is good, but the face should always be well protected against the extreme heat, wind and dust. Thei girls of your acquaintance who live a great deal out of doors by no means have the most beautiful complexions. You can best protect your sain against the elements or beautify it for social lire by a face lotion which you can very ensity make at home by getting a ounces spurmax from druggist and dissolving it in is pint of hot water, to which you add 2 teaspoonfuls of giveerine. This lotion is easier to apply than powder, does not rub off, looks like part of the skin, giving a natural velvety bloom while removing shimness and surface discolorations and curing irritation and pimples.

A Message To Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh Thus, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say; "I can't understand why I'do not get fat.
I cat pienty of good, nourishing food."
The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, uniess your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.
What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues, and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary cunal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of fleshbuilding elements and to stop the leukage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physleians here and abroad. Take a 'ittle Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Lee & Osgood and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package, it is inexpensive, easy to take and highly elficient.
